

ENFUCELL Wearable Temperature Tag

45*40mm

Enfucell wearable temperature tag, using NFC technology to measure and record body temperature of the target group in real time. All the data will be integrated and uploaded to the cloud platform which realizes the accurate monitoring and analysis. At the same time, the unique code UID of the tag corresponded with each people will be scanned and recognized via mobile phone. So, with the help of big data and cloud computing, temperature monitoring and location management are dually implemented.

Wearable temperature tag has the following advantages:

45 * 40mm;

Can be used to measure axillary temperature;

Easy to use with attached medical dressing;

Skin-friendly adhesive to improve the accuracy of body temperature measurement;

FEATURES

Unique ID

Location management;

Contactless

Avoid cross infection;

Cloud Platform

Data uploaded and updated in real time;

Accurate measurement

Higher accuracy than traditional thermometers;

APPLICATION SCENARIO

Hospital
Management

Public Place
Control

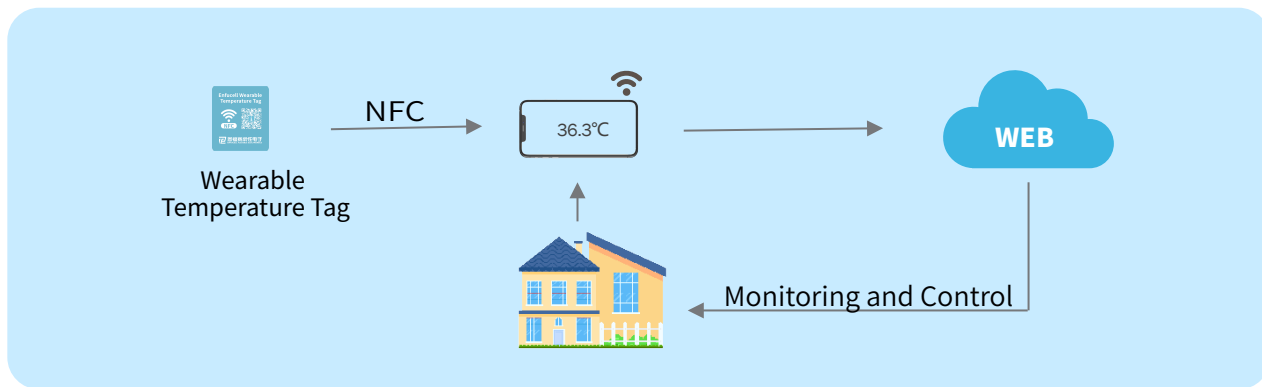

Home
Monitoring

Office
Monitoring

INSTRUCTIONS

Step1:

Recognize the two sides of the tag;

Front

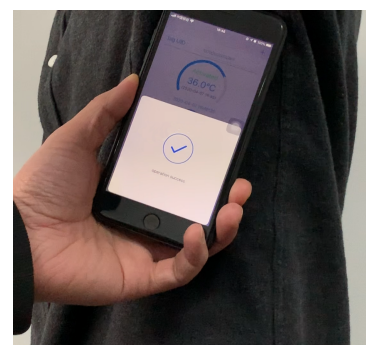

Back

Step2:

Insert the Back side (one with temperature measurement chip) vertically under your arm. Enfucell wearable temperature tag can provide a 24/7 continuous measuring for you;

Scan and Download

MODES OF PRODUCTS

Adhesive version, using skin-friendly adhesive, clean and environmentally friendly, disposable after use

Medical adhesive version with skin-friendly non-woven fabric on the back. Fixed with medical tape for easy replacement and high reusability

